January 2022

A New Year for Alliance-Building

2021 was a fairly successful year for our Alliance, excepting the last quarter due to Chairman Williams' near disastrous bout with the pesky Chinese virus. Despite that, his rehabilitation is moving forward into February; all in-house rehab nurses and attendants were relieved in mid-January and he has been weaned from oxygen tanks and nearly from the use of his cane. The assistance of Mrs. Williams and dependable National Office staffers will get our National Alliance through the winter in remarkably good shape, ready for even more progress come spring.

The new members we have been attracting are outstanding. And many more are expected to join the National Alliance as Whites become exceedingly disgusted with the direction the country has been going the past year under the Jew-heavy, deranged, and anti-White Biden/Harris administration. More and more Whites are giving up on traditional leaders: politicians, churchmen, and "mainstream" media personalities — finally seeing the Jewish hand guiding them all. The JQ (Jewish Question) that the Alliance has addressed for decades is front and center now. It is the contribution of writers on National Vanguard, Douglas Mercer, Andrew Hamilton, Wolf Stoner, David Sims, John Massaro, Kevin Strom and a dozen or so other regulars that set our Alliance apart and above other pro-White groups, as Whites search for the most promising, uncompromising White advocacy group to join.

Our revolutionary spiritual basis, Cosmotheism, is the foremost difference between the National Alliance and most other groups, who are either "Christian conservatives" themselves or who refuse to address Christianity and its Middle Eastern/Jewish roots. Christianity is the biggest, the most polarizing issue holding back our race, and the Alliance will continue being on the correct side, telling the difficult truths, as unpopular as they may be with our misguided Christian kin. We expand this issue of the BULLETIN by four additional pages to feature member Wolf Stoner's essay that addresses this central issue and our strategy to never unite with universalists or with half-baked "movement"organizations that do not follow the Alliance's hard line. On 17 January an earlier commentary by Chairman Williams, featuring the words of William Pierce, was republished here: https://nationalvanguard.org/2022/01/vow-not-to-compromise/. Every current member should read it, so he can fully understand the Alliance's sound, and unique, long-term strategy and mission.

Legal Update

There is not much in the way of updates on National Alliance court actions, thank goodness, which gives us some needed breathing room. However, there are loose ends that our Alliance attorneys are tying up in both the McCorkill estate matter in Canadian courts that has been ongoing for nearly 18 years now; for newer members unfamiliar with this case, see: https://nationalvanguard.org/2016/07/implications-of-the-jewish-theft-of-the-mccorkill-fortune/ as well as the Alliance's counterclaim against the estate of John McLaughlin, the millionaire who foolishly sued us in 2016, but who died in 2017. The cross actions have been ongoing for nearly six and a half years now and are nearing settlement, finally. John's two brothers are the co-administrators of John's multi-million dollar estate, as well as the sole heirs. A trial has been scheduled for May in Virginia but the McLaughlin defendants do not want to meet plaintiff Williams at trial, thus they have negotiated a settlement. They had requested that Chairman Williams be deposed by their attorney on Monday, 24 January, but that got preempted when, instead, they offered to settle. Terms of the settlement will not be disclosed by either party due to a standard NDA (Non Disclosure Agreement) clause requested by the defendants. That's all right; We know the terms and consider the settlement a win. Some background on McLaughlin, here: https://nationalvanguard.org/2016/11/national-alliance-legal-victories/

Much more about this tragic case is in Chairman Williams' legal thriller, Pocahontas Show Trial, available here: https://cosmotheistchurch.org/product/pocahontas-show-trial-by-william-w-williams/

New Staff Member

In mid-September our National Office received a simple note that read:

I am able to help/volunteer with the building of the new National Alliance Memorial Library or any other projects as long term general laborer, beginning in November. — Doug Pickett, Member #____

It took Doug a little longer than he'd estimated to get his affairs in order in New York, but he arrived in December ready to work, liked what he saw, as did we right away in him. He is 58, single, a serious idealist, and mature (doesn't drink, smoke, or do drugs, and is a voracious reader, at least two books or more per week). Doug's life experience is rich, having been a writer, an artist, as well as working for several years as an archeologist in Germany. He has operated his own business in New York City for years, but finally had had enough of the culture, politics, and demographics of Gotham, answered our call for volunteers, and is now a valuable National Office staff member. He is modest, willing to do any labor that's needed, and his construction skills, especially carpentry, have already proven to be of inestimable value. January has been a record cold and icy month here, but from the "layered look" in Douglas's photo it can be seen that he knows how to deal with cold weather. When the weather has been too wet, cold, and blustery for outside work, Doug is proving to be valuable in the office on a special project that fits his talents and interests well.

Cosmotheist Books

Sales at https://cosmotheistchurch.org/shop/ have picked up recently despite the Jews' determined efforts to disrupt and destroy our book business. We have suspended the practice of adding ten new titles each month to our site as we have been doing for more than two years while building our online shop. This reduction is partially because of our lack of space for further expansion of hard inventory. We will, however, from time to time add new titles, including five this month. We had offered master WW2 historian David Irving's 2002 millennium edition of Hitler's War and the War Path earlier, but all copies were quickly sold. We again have a limited number of this rare, 990-page masterpiece with scores of rare photographs, many in color. A second edition of Beowulf, this from the Penguin Classics series, is an excellent prose translation by David Wright of the oldest known epic of any Teutonic people and the first important poem in Old English. Our second biography of "the father of American literature," this 2012 edition of Mark Twain: Strange and Wonderful by Lee Prosser has 40 photographs and illustrations. Our store already offers four selections in C.S. Forrester's Hornblower Saga adventure series. In this fifth offering, Commodore Hornblower, the protagonist finds himself fighting Napoleonic forces in Russia in 1812.

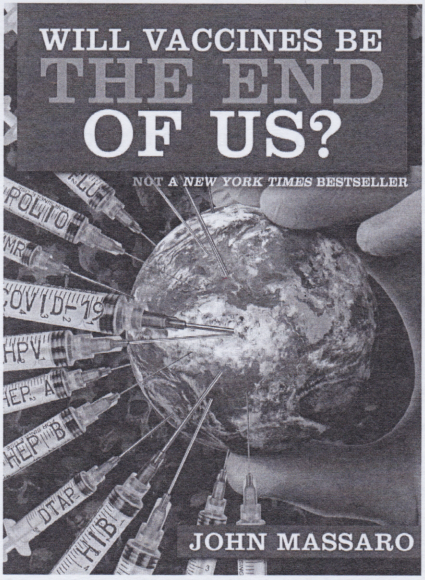
Our featured title this month is the brand new book by established author (and former writer for Wilmot Robertson's Instauration magazine), and Alliance friend and supporter John Massaro, Will Vaccines Be the End of Us? It is large-format, nearly 300 pages, with lots of photos and illustrations. Many Alliance members will appreciate this very timely book. The price is set at $25, but those who receive this issue of the BULLETIN can purchase Will Vaccines Be the End of Us? during the month of February only, for $15 plus standard postage and handling of $3. The book's description tells us:



Vaccines are experimental blends of biological and chemical junk that don't work and have maimed or killed an uncountable number of people. The big lie that they have "saved" millions of lives has been repeated so often and for so long that most consider it the indisputable truth. Yet any serious investigation will reveal that there are no vaccination success stories, only myths taught in medical universities and served to the public by the fake news establishment, both of which have strong financial ties with the big pharmaceutical firms that manufacture vaccines. Since 1796, when it all started, thoughtful people have emphatically condemned the procedure and exposed its dark underside. And now, with the Covid-19 hoax, the criminals who develop and promote vaccines are trying to force the most dangerous "medicine" ever invented on the entire world. As a result, we may be living on the brink of an unthinkable human tragedy. Massaro delves into taboo topics that many would find offensive, including race, religion, even the Jewish Question and that other big lie: the Holocaust.

John Massaro writes in his book:

The title of this book asks if vaccines will be the end of us. A corollary question would be, "Will Jews be the end of us?".... It's something that thoughtful men through the ages have pondered. The late William Pierce, founder of the National Alliance, a racial nationalist organization still in operation despite several setbacks, pondered it long and hard. ...Pierce believed that the conflict between the Jew and Aryan man was a battle of Nature beyond any moral considerations, such as takes place throughout the plant and animal kingdom, and ultimately one or the other will be killed off. — John Massaro, page 244

In addition to those five titles, by the end of February the long-delayed twelfth volume of our Power of Truth CD series should be available, increasing the number of talks by National Alliance founder William Pierce in the series to 240. All of the 220 talks by Dr. Pierce on discs one through 11 are available here: https://cosmotheistchurch.org/product-category/cds/ and can be listened to for free on our video channels: natall.com/bitchute and video.natall.com. Members are urged to spread those Web links to like-minded kinsmen who need the teachings of Dr. Pierce. These easily accessed audio teachings have proven to be great tools for recruiting new members.

Correspondence

Dear Chairman Williams: Please find enclosed $500 for my family's membership dues. I will follow this up with another $500 next month and hope to continue with that $500 contribution to our National Alliance every month. I am glad your health is returning. My family appreciates everything you and the Alliance are doing for our race. — J.H., California

Dear National Alliance: I wish to purchase one hundred copies of the Saga of White Will comic book. A check for $254.06 is enclosed for them and for Priority Mail postage. Since you are working on such a thin margin, I decided to donate another $100 to the Cosmotheist Church for which another check is enclosed in that amount. Thank you. Very truly yours, — R.B., Arizona

Chairman Williams responds: Thank you so much for your continuing support of our work, R.B., and for your activism using our material. That makes a total of 300 White Will comics that you have ordered and are spreading around your area to young Whites. And thank you and your family, J.H., for your generous monthly pledge. That is the equivalent of the minimum monthly pledges of 25 members! — giving us substantially increased monthly operating funds we can depend upon for our projects. I enjoyed our phone conversation and look forward to your visit to our National Office.

Thank you, everyone, for the warm welcome. Chairman Williams' article entitled "Vow not to compromise" only reinforces my decision to join. The rigid stance on Dr. Pierce's vision is exactly what I was hoping for when joining.... I believe in the National Alliance, its goals, purpose, and means as stated by Dr. Pierce, which I believe Chairman Williams is following faithfully. I am still learning and trying to further my understanding of Cosmotheism. I certainly look forward to any information or guidance on the subject that you, or the other seasoned members of WB, may provide. — T.M., South Carolina, via whitebiocentrism.com forum

Chairman Williams responds: I enjoyed speaking with you by telephone, T.M., and learning how you found our Alliance years ago and finally decided to join with us. I wish more members would register and participate at our little forum like you have. It is the best place for us to discuss current racial news and Alliance matters among ourselves, and to mentor new members and new people who are interested in our Alliance and Cosmotheism.

Dear NA, Today, (Monday, 17 January) is the day the Marxists/Communists of America officially honor and celebrate one of their heroes. What the indoctrinated masses have not learned, what is only learned the hard way, what they surely will learn as history repeats itself, is that Marxist collectivism is the unrivaled value-destroying system that lasts only until it has consumed and corrupted that which value-producers, over many decades, have created and accrued. Disconnected from reason and reality, the "useful idiots" haven't a clue. Speaking of days to commemorate (and mourn): February 13, 14, and 15 mark the 77th anniversary of the Dresden hellstorm that the [democratic/Bolshevik] Allies inflicted on an already defeated nation of fellow kinsmen. Let us decent men and women of our great race always remember this tragic act — the most terroristic, fiery holocaust in the history of mankind. $100 donation enclosed toward your work. — C.R., Ontario, Canada

Chairman Williams responds: Our Alliance doesn't have a leaflet yet about the shameful destruction of Dresden, but we remember it each year in mid-February on American Dissident Voices, as in our piece "Dresden: A Real Holocaust" on National Vanguard. And we have several more articles about it there that can be shared. We do have the flier "No King Over Us," that our people spread around each January to counter the disgusting love-fest over Marxist Negro MLK, Jr., available at natall.com/fliers for printing.

I just finished reading the series of articles titled Who We Are, parts 1 to 26 and I just wanted to say thank you. I feel shaken to my core, because I knew some of the information contained in that series, but it was so well written and so well thought out that it crystallized this information in my mind in a deeper way than I ever imagined possible. I've known the truth of our origins for a long time, and deep down I always knew WW2 was more than I was told, but this series of articles brought it all together so succinctly and brilliantly that I'm not sure I'll ever be the same. I also read the article about who you want to join, and while I am the son of two White parents of Scottish and German stock, I am not qualified to join. I am young, I own no property or any great amount o`f wealth, and I have few accomplishments worth mentioning here. Still, I want to do whatever it takes to save our people. If there is anything I can do, please do not hesitate to ask it of me. Veritas Vincit [truth wins], — N.C., Canada, via email

Chairman Williams responds: I thought perhaps N.C. was ineligible for Alliance membership because he was not yet 18, but no, in corresponding further with him, I learned that he is in his 20s and thought he wasn't qualified because, as he said, he has few accomplishments in life and so far, no wealth or property. I told him I can tell by what he wrote that he has potential and would be welcomed into our Alliance. He was surprised when I told him that Dr. Pierce's "Who We Are" series was written in the 1970s. N.C. told me he'd be sending in his membership application ASAP.

Leaving the Alliance, and the Importance of Building a New White World: What Is the National Alliance?

To National Alliance: I am discontinuing my membership. I don't feel like it's proper to remain on [social media] channels I had access to because I was a member. My decision stems from a discussion on the [Telegram social media] "members only" channel a while back about serfdom. While I agree with the absolute worldview of a hierarchy, I do not agree that just because a White man is only capable of labor, that he cannot be trusted to own his parcel of land or home. If we don't seek to make our own better, then what are we fighting for? I hold no ill will, no anger or anything. I guess I should have looked a bit deeper into the worldview of the NA before I joined. My fault.... For a White tomorrow, — B.B., sent through a member, also on the Telegram social platform

Chairman Williams, After some careful consideration, I've come to the conclusion that my wife and I are not a good fit for the National Alliance, and should therefore withdraw from membership. I don't feel any more of a connection with other members of it than I did with online "friends" when I used to have a Facebook page before Zuckerberg started his censoring, or than I do with "followers" on my Gab account. These people are little more than virtual friends who I know I am never likely to meet, much less develop deep and meaningful relationships with.

It's much like the way I came to feel about others whose Web sites I read and sent money to: [several groups' names deleted], to name a few. I never felt any real connection with any of them, even though I knew that we shared the same views on major issues. One of those issues was on the subject of where Whites should live. White flight has sent many of us over the years to seek refuge outside of big cities. We have been running away from our enemies for many years. Leaders at the Alliance, like many other Whites, believe that people of our race need to leave big cities and live in rural towns, but [so-called] Fair Housing and our government's distribution of endless waves of immigrants from third-world countries to White cities, ensures that any remaining White enclaves will eventually be turned into integrated communities. Restrictive covenants and freedom of association are seen, even by many Whites, as unforgivably racist, and are things that are not allowed. And if we think that we can escape the grasp of our Jew-controlled, White-hating government, all we have to think about is what happened to Randy Weaver in 1992....We've made up our minds on this, so I hope you don't feel you have to respond. Sincerely, — M.M. and D.M., Nevada

Chairman Williams responds: I was sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. M. resigned their memberships, but was not surprised after Mr. M. told me he had also joined "Patriot Front" and several other groups in addition to the Alliance. He's a joiner, but can't seem to commit himself to just one group. His supporting and joining all of those other groups indicates his divided loyalty, and smacks of hobbyism. It is no wonder our Alliance is not a good fit for him. It's not a good fit for B.B. either. We in the Alliance realize that we are not a good fit for everyone. Advising Whites to leave big cities is not a definite Alliance policy, but isn't a bad idea; it's actually just common sense, considering big city demographics and who is running most of the cities these days. Former member M. strikes me as defeatist, and somewhat of a hypocrite since he and Mrs. M. reside in "Sin City" (Las Vegas) while criticizing determined rural White separatist communities. He was so ebullient, praising the words of our Wolf Stoner with his comments on National Vanguard, but did not grasp Wolf's positive commentary about our Alliance's community-building.

Every National Alliance aspirant is required to read Building a New White World: What Is the National Alliance? (BANWW). A clearly stated requirement is that "if he accepts as his own the goals of the National Alliance and is willing to support the program described herein he may apply for membership." It is doubtful that M. read BANWW and the membership application carefully, but if he did, it's clear that he was not willing to support the Alliance's program described therein. I am positive that former member B.B. did not read BANWW. He doesn't realize that whatever other members or non-members said about "serfdom" and property rights on a social media channel were just opinions and not National Alliance policy, which is set forth only in publications of the National Office. (And members on social media should not imply otherwise.) Both B.B. and M. have an inordinate estimate of the importance of these online platforms, which in their cases seems to have distorted their understanding of the Alliance. Nearly every person who received this BULLETIN back in October was mailed a hard copy of the September 2021 updated version of BANWW and was urged to carefully read it. The section quoted below describes our program. The rest can be read in the booklet or online, here: https://natall.com/about/what-is-the-national-alliance/

> The skeptic, or the person who cannot imagine a state of affairs very different from the one he is accustomed to, will look at the enormous disparity in every element of the power structure between us and our enemies, and he will think that our goal of gaining governmental power is not attainable — and that if it were possible, it would be only through building a power structure larger and stronger than that of our opponents: building a revolutionary army with more soldiers than the US Army; building television networks with more viewers than ABC, CBS, and NBC; building political organizations able to get more voters to the polls than the Democrats or the Republicans. But this is not necessary.
> It is not necessary for two reasons: First, the power structure of our opponents is undergoing rapid, degenerative change. It might seem too much to say that the governmental power structure in the United States is self-destructing before our eyes, but its pathology becomes more apparent month by month in many ways: in the increasingly tawdry, "show business" style of political campaigns; in the ever more frequent revelations of the legislators' corruption, personal depravity, and disregard for the laws they make; in the government's increasingly evident fear of its own citizens; above all, in the loss of governmental will to deal with problems requiring strong, decisive, and perhaps unpopular action. It is losing its moral authority and its credibility with the people it governs; fewer and fewer of them regard their government as more than an expensive nuisance, as witnessed by the growing number who have simply stopped voting....

The second reason why we don't have to build a power structure as large as the one opposed to us is that all the elements in the population we want to reach with our message are becoming increasingly responsive to that message. At the same time the opposing power structure is losing its own partisans. The government and the Jewish media will continue to have their hard core of support — Jews, feminists, some homosexuals, some Christians, the radical-liberal New World Order enthusiasts, most of the state and Federal bureaucrats, and others on government or media payrolls — but outside these special constituencies our enemies have very few real friends left, even among their beneficiaries. Blacks and Mestizos as a whole, for example, can hardly be considered a staunch bulwark of the government, despite the favoritism it has shown them. The American population has become much like the Roman mob of old, ready to cheer for any government which can provide it with bread and circuses, but equally ready to turn against the government the moment the supply of those commodities is interrupted — and never ready to defend the government if any personal sacrifice is required.

I have never been on social media and have never had "friends" or "likers" on Faceberg or Gab or Twitter or any of those other virtual groups that we do not control. The Alliance is my social group. It's in the real world. I added the following as my signature file at our White Biocentrism forum. It appears under each comment I make there:

If Whites insist on participating in "social media," do so on ours, not (((theirs))). Like us on whitebiocentrism.com; follow us on nationalvanguard.org.

I'm prejudiced, spoiled by working closely with William Pierce for ten years before we lost him, and another 19 years after that, making sure his teachings and unique world view are introduced to our people, who desperately need them. I told Dr. Pierce that if I ever found a group with a better chance at victory for our people, I'd leave the National Alliance and go work for that group. He accepted that as fair and was not worried. As hard as I've searched, I've yet to find any group that compares favorably to what Dr. Pierce built and left to us to build on.

Member Responds to White House Directive for OSHA to Mandate Vaccines

Moving out of the city, becoming self-reliant, and joining or forming self-reliant communities will very soon turn from a dream that some of our civilization-tired brethren hold, to a very real and immediate question of life and death. If you have any plans in that direction you should start setting them in motion as soon as possible. The situation is not going to get any better anytime soon.

The unvaccinated will be barred from regular employment. They will be barred from attending schools. They will be barred from taking part in the economy — at some point even online shopping — in order to force compliance. They will, gradually, be excluded from any social or economical participation.

They might even shut your utilities off in order to get your "compliance" — they are thinking about this evil in Germany and France.

Your best chance to survive the impending collapse of our society and thrive is to withdraw yourself, your family, etc., in an orderly manner from the system — before it kicks you out.

This situation, as inconvenient as it might seem (as long as you have something to eat and a place to lay your head at night, it is really nothing more than an inconvenience), is a blessing in disguise — because it forces us to finally live up to the standards and values we claim to hold!

I refuse to get the jab! I refuse to get replaced in my own homeland! I refuse to allow the extinction of my race!

We are all part of a spiritual struggle, a Holy War between the Forces of Darkness and Disintegration versus the Forces of Light and Life. Read Savitri Devi if you haven't already. (https://cosmotheistchurch.org/product/the-lightning-and-the-sun-by-savitri-devi-abridged-edited-by-william-pierce/) What happens on the material plane is nothing but the reflection of the never-ending cosmic dance of Life and Death, Creation and Collapse. We now live in the Age of Gloom, the Kali Yuga. And as bad and hopeless as things might seem, this age will come to an end, most likely a violent one. And it will be followed by a new Golden Age for those who, physically and spiritually, survived.

Be a survivor! Take control of your destiny! Join the National Alliance and become part of the future of your People. — Thomas Cole, Connecticut

Letters to Editors; Bumper Sticker; Wolf Stoner

My letter to the local paper here in Johnson County, Tennessee, The Tomahawk, that was featured in our December BULLETIN, was never published. The paper's publisher didn't respond to either my telephone call or my email asking why he decided to not use my letter. He may have been worried that readers might be offended by "racism," though the letter, as anyone could see, was quite temperate. (It turns out that the local mayor is a member of the Mountain City Church of Christ that I admonished in the letter for its bulk mailing to White citizens of the county chastising us for "White racism.") Perhaps he decided the letter was controversial — has he forgotten that controversy sells papers? So, anyway, that letter, had it been printed, would soon have been forgotten, not saved, and the paper it was printed on probably used to start fires in subscribers' stoves. But the National Alliance is also a publisher — of this monthly BULLETIN, of our online magazine, of books and other material — so we decided to publish that rejected letter on National Vanguard, here: https://nationalvanguard.org/2022/02/the-letter-from-the-national-alliance-chairman-they-wouldnt-publish/

Many, many more Whites will now read that rejected letter for years to come, and can comment on it without being suppressed by a pusillanimous censor. A comment on NV under the letter on 1 February by Michael R., after seeing the photo of our four all-White Johnson County Middle School Longhorns basketball teams, is the sort of reaction we in the Alliance hope will catch on:

> May all of America's youth, and I do mean all, one day resemble that Longhorn team! We can make it happen. We will. We must. And may all anti-Whites be damned in my lifetime, and I do mean all.

Some NV readers may even say to themselves, "Johnson County, Tennessee, looks like a nice place for us to relocate and raise our family."

Alliance Bumper Sticker

Years ago I made some bumper stickers like the one pictured on page 10. We will make up a new batch with this same slogan but including our Web address, and include one with each BULLETIN we mail next month. Our American Dissident Voices broadcast of 29 January had this slogan as its title.

Wolf Stoner Writes Again

Mr. Stoner is a clear-eyed, insightful Alliance member who knows of what he writes, especially on matters concerning Russia, his home, where he has been a Russian racial-nationalist for years. He disabuses many Americans of their faith in Russian President Vladimir Putin as some sort of "Great White Hope" nationalist in his just-published series, exclusive to National Vanguard. Part 1 of the series may be found at: https://nationalvanguard.org/2022/01/a-russian-nationalist-on-the-ukrainian-dilemma-part-1/. Wolf is not spare with his words; the series runs in excess of 12,000 words in five parts. That timely series is worth reading, as is the following piece he also wrote for us this month, and is the main reason this month's issue of the BULLETIN has been extended to 12 pages instead of the usual 8. Note how Wolf's words fit National Alliance ideology and long-term strategy. W. W. W.

INTRODUCTION: The following is a theoretical article, dealing with some abstract questions. The case study is the United States of America, but all conclusions found here are equally relevant for all other White countries, with minor adjustments to local realities. This article is intended exclusively for our people, that is for racially aware White people not afflicted by the Christian mental virus. I am against open confrontation with Christians at present, because it would be utterly counterproductive. But we should clearly understand that at some point in the future the conflict is inevitable and inescapable — not because of our intolerance, but because of the inherent Christian obsession with dominance. Christianity is proto-Communism or, rather, Communism is a gain-of-function mutation of Christianity. In any case, it is the most dangerous virus that has ever emerged among our people. Christians are never content with what they have. They always want to "spread the word of god"; that means to expand their dominance and to annihilate all those who think differently. Therefore, the conflict with Christians isn't something that non-Christians want, but something that Christians provoke by their very nature. If given political power, they would not tolerate White non-Christian racial groups; they would ban them, killing all those who persist. To prevent this from happening again with our people, the Christian faction should be held in check for the time being, with an eventual diminishing of their influence to an acceptable level (when they are not more than a band of cranks in a cellar). They should not be forbidden to practice their insanity, but this insanity should be forever excluded from influencing our people's affairs. Therefore, this seemingly secondary question of Christianity is really at the center of all other questions; and without solving this problem it would be impossible to deal effectively with any other problems.

Civil War or Race War? (part 1)

The fact that there is going to be an internal war in America is undeniable and more and more widely understood. Although only a few decades ago this idea was almost inconceivable for the majority of people, now even the mainstream crowd is beginning to see what is to come. The level of internal social tension has reached such a point that there can't be any peaceful solution. And even if it was yet possible to pacify the situation, the System has no intention of doing so. The ruling "elite" operates under the spell of their own perceived greatness and invincibility, therefore they don't think that there is any need to compromise with opponents. They are sure of their ultimate success and perceive current events as the final dash to their goal of global dominance.

Yes, the ruling class and their paid minions are the main force at present. They have the most potent factors of power under their control; therefore, they can dictate their will to all other strata of the population. But all power is conditional and limited, even the most tyrannical power. The very concept of "absolute power" is somewhat misleading. No one ever had absolute power. Any power that exists depends on other factors. And this is especially true about Jewish power in the USA.

The whole System has been able to emerge and endure for many decades because of these important factors: the economic superiority of America and the high living standards of its population. These were the glue that held together the heterogeneous crowd. Everyone comes to America with a desire to "earn big bucks." But to attain this "sublime" goal the newcomers were required to meet some criteria. In the last few decades the main criterion was an adherence to the liberal ideological creed ("tolerance," "equality," "diversity," LGBT). Even if you disagreed with this trash, you were quiet about it. It was an implicit trade-off between the System and its subjects. The subjects pretended to agree with the whole set of ideological nonsense, and the System provided them with opportunities to attain wealth.

But after George W. Bush's presidency, this seemingly perfect scheme started to crumble. The ability of the System to provide an unparalleled level of prosperity started to diminish. The decline of living standards of the American middle class, initially perceived as temporary, turned out to be an ever-accelerating trend. The White middle class was set on the path of transformation into a proletariat on a par with the flood of bipedal creatures from the Third World. This is actually the main idea of the ruling "elite." They want to see White people socially lowered to the level of incoming Black/Brown slaves. The whole fuss about "equality" and "equity" is actually about this ultimate goal. White people are supposed to accept this humiliation as a "new normal."

This thorough social transformation has sharply accelerated since 2016, forcing the whole country into chaos in 2020 — the year of revelation, the year when even the mainstream White crowd began to see that the System wants them gone. After this realization that the old implicit concord of "political loyalty in exchange for prosperity" wasn't valid anymore, some segments of the White population started on the path of political radicalization. It was absolutely predictable and inevitable. The rulers knew that it was sure to come; therefore their whole narrative about "domestic terrorism," "bigotry," and "the neo-Nazi threat" was in place beforehand. But the naïve, disenchanted White crowds didn't know this. Their thought process was a captive of the historical textbook patterns of 1776. That's why the so-called insurrection event of 6 January, 2021, took place. It was, actually, a ridiculous failure, judged in retrospect. This mostly White crowd not only failed to attain their limited goals, but exposed their weakness and their total lack of understanding of the root causes of what has happened to their country. They really thought (and continue to think) that Zionist puppet Trump is their national leader and savior and that he would lead them, like George Washington, to new heights of glory and greatness — an unforgivable folly, the result of multi-generational mental degradation due to an opulent lifestyle and, especially, the poisonous effects of Hollywood and the rest of the controlled media. Many among our people have lost the ability to think critically. Their minds operate according to the prefabricated false patterns inserted in their minds by media and "education." Very few can break through these mental fences.

Yes, the process of understanding and realizing that America is in the process of disintegration has greatly accelerated, but we should not hope that it will quickly lead millions of mainstream White people to the full realization of what is really going on in the world. That is sure to remain beyond their mental scope. Yes, they now understand that everything is falling apart, but they are not able to see the whole situation as it is. Therefore, all hopes that the White masses would wake up and realize their racial identity and destiny should be discarded as unrealistic. We should not delude ourselves, because false hopes lead to bad results. In contrast to the deluded White simpletons of 6 January, we should act according to factual and logical considerations. Futile hopes and wishful thinking should be put aside.

Let others wander on those barren lands of mainstream politics. We should be above this. When I say that we should be above mainstream politics, it doesn't mean that we should sever ourselves from what is going on in society. Not at all. On the contrary. We should be active in the most crucial aspects of these events.

The most important thing in any war is to gain a clear understanding of what is going on; to map the battlefield, so to say. The better we are able to do that, the greater are our chances for long-term success. The unforgivable folly is to rush into political traps like Charlottesville or the 6 January events. It should be noted that the System was only partially successful with those traps. Not all nationalists participated in the Charlottesville events — far from it, in fact; and the Capitol Hill protest was exclusively a mainstream affair. Almost all notable people from nationalist and traditionalist groups had warned their followers against participating in it. But the System was stupid enough to try to present this event as some kind of "Nazi riot" — a grave mistake. By doing this, they themselves destroy the potency of those magical words, "Nazis," "White supremacists," and "racists," that were so useful for decades in preventing the mainstream public from following the true path. Now, when this whole bugaboo of "Nazism" is destroyed by their own overuse of the nonsense word, they have greatly reduced their ability to manipulate public perceptions of reality. The nature of the System should be obvious for all now. The funny, now popular "Let's go, Brandon" [f___ Joe Biden] slogan, chanted by crowds in venues across the country has exposed the basic idea of this whole System: It always lies and always tries to shout down reality with flagrant falsehoods. From Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt to Bush and Biden, this System always operates by lies and deceptions. Nothing else should be expected from it. The most perceptive and intelligent Americans have always understood that. But now it has become obvious even to mainstream simpletons chanting "Let's go, Brandon."

But the understanding of the mainstream crowd has very limited scope and depth. Yes, they understand that something bad is going on and even that their beloved United States of America probably is going to fall apart, but they know little beyond this. This fact determines much of what is to come, and this is why we should be very cautious in our estimates. First, we should think long-term, as Dr. William Luther Pierce taught us. This precept puts us far apart from and above all others, including those politicians who try to play the nationalist card.

Long-term planning presupposes the ability to see beyond immediate events. Therefore, our focus should be shifted toward what comes after the USA collapses. But until then, we should remain neutral, because all these social squabbles of Trump versus Biden or the equivalent have nothing to do with our goals. We should instead be preparing for what comes next.

And now enters the main question of this article: What kind of war will flare up after the USA is no more? A race war? Or a civil war? Many people on our side tend to entertain fond hopes of an inevitable race war. Yes, the undeniable fact is that, in the very long run, racial identity will be the most important factor in determining the outcome of all major conflicts, with the ultimate triumph of only one racial type; that is inevitable. But to see the distant mountain peaks is one thing; actually reaching them is another. Yes, all of us can understand the overall outline of what is to come. But the problem is that many idealists fail to see the whole multitude of events and difficulties that stand between present realities and our distant goals.

The best teacher of reality is history. We should read history as much as possible; it is sure to help us to gain a deeper understanding of events and to free our minds from dangerous delusions and wishful thinking.

What is the most important lesson of history in the last two centuries? The primary lesson is that the main enemy of White people has been other White people. It was not Amerindians or Negroes who devastated America in 1861-65; it was not Maori or Amazon tribesmen who massacred millions of young White men in the trenches of the First World War, or who imposed the most unjust peace conditions on their own racial brethren; it was not Pygmies or Zulus who incinerated cities, killed millions of civilians and POWs and plundered everything of value in Europe in 1944-45. Yes, all of this was done by Whites. By White untermenschen, I would add.

What is important to see now is that the absolute majority of modern White mainstream crowds are of a similar sort. They are White but they are untermenschen in their spiritual qualities. They are of little value to the White race in its true sense. And this fact goes far beyond the idea that they are simply "deceived people but otherwise good." I would not give this crowd such a generous estimation. They are who they are. We should stop imagining something that doesn't exist. As the saying goes: If it looks like a duck, swims like a duck, and quacks like a duck, then it is probably a duck. The minds of mainstream people were soaked with mental poison for generations and there are very few who preserved the ability of independent logical thinking.
